THE NEW GILL OS1 OFFSHORE JACKET AND TROUSERS

The OS1 is a tough, comfortable and functional choice for those who need a foul weather system that is designed to withstand the rigors of extended offshore boating.

This is the most comprehensive offshore suit to come out of the product development team to date and is made using Gill's top of the range 5 Dot four-layer laminated fabric. As a result of intensive on-the-water research with professional boaters, Gill is able to deliver a cutting edge jacket and trouser combination that is extremely durable, waterproof and breathable.

The OS1 is packed full of features. If you like pockets, the OS1 has a total of 12 pockets, each with their own use – including cargo pockets with attachment points, waterproof internal chest pocket and three sets of essential hand warmer pockets on the upper chest, the lower pocket area and on the trousers.

Particular attention has been given to the area around the neck and chin where some jackets can be vulnerable to water intrusion and cause discomfort on the face. This has been resolved by an innovative closure system around the chin, and a comfortable micro-fleece internal lining that has very soft feel against the skin.

The Jacket features an extra-high offshore collar and wrap around faceguard with fold-down option when additional communication is required. Packed neatly into the back of the collar, you will find the active-fit rollaway hood, with its 2-way adjustment and fleece-lined trim that sits against the forehead for extra comfort. As you would expect, the wearer is completely protected from the elements when the conditions deteriorate.

With safety the number one priority, there are SOLAS approved prismatic reflectors on the chest, shoulders, cuffs and hood, and reflective piping all the way around the upper body section.

The OS1 Jacket is available in the high safety colors of yellow and red – both designed to match the graphite trousers.
