GILL ADDS TWO NEW STYLES TO WATERPROOF BAGS RANGE

February 19, 2009

Gill has increased its range of waterproof bags to now include a 5 Liter and 50 Liter Dry Cylinder Bags. A dry bag is useful in all boating environments, whether you are sailing, motor boating, paddling, or fishing.

Gill dry bags are made from durable waterproof fabric with roll-down closures that have integral snap buckles and webbing reinforcement to create a simple watertight seal. Each bag has a full-length translucent mesh reinforced panel so that you can easily see what's inside.

The Dry Cylinder Bags have rounded bases that make them stable and easy to fit in the many awkward spaces often found in and around boats. When not in use, the bags fold flat and are easily stowed.

The L055 5-liter bag is ideal for storing smaller items and could be used as the crew's 'valuables' bag, storing wallets, purses, mobile phones, keys and change.

Lance Jones, Gill North America's Marketing and Sales Associate says, "I love this piece of kit! My wife and I each have a 5, 10 and 25-liter bag. The 5 Liter is perfect for overnight trips while the 10-liter lends itself well for a weekend excursion. We both use the 25 for carting clothing and other soft goods to our boat. One other nice feature is that you can put all sorts of stuff you don't want to get wet like wallets, cell phones and the like, roll it up, snap it around your belt, and then swim to shore. No worries about your possessions getting wet!"

The L056 50-liter bag comes with a detachable shoulder strap and is ideal for larger loads such as clothing and waterproofs.
