NEW i5 CROSSWIND INSULATING MIDLAYER JACKET AND SALOPETTES FROM GILL

The i5 Gill Crosswind midlayer jacket and Salopettes has been redeveloped with an improved fit and new color scheme. The Crosswind comes in to its own when the temperature drops or the sun goes down, providing excellent cold-weather insulation.

Using the latest in laminate fabric technology, the garments are waterproof and breathable, providing an extremely soft, low-bulk mid-layer.

Thermally lined in all the key areas with highly insulating non-water absorbing synthetic internal lining that features a high CLO rating (Insulating factor). The Crosswind has a slippery lining making it extremely easy to get in to in a hurry when the weather conditions deteriorate, even over other layers.

A stretch material in the shoulder panel of the Salopettes complements the most aerobic moments on the boat. An elasticized waist and abrasion resistant seat and knees all contribute to an extremely comfortable and versatile product that can even be worn as an outer shell in less aggressive conditions.

Features You Can Trust:

- Stretch shoulder panels for comfort (Salopettes) – Provides ease of movement and comfort
- Fully lined – For comfort.
- Fully taped – Provides maximum waterproof seal at seams
- Ultra-compact synthetic insulation – Insures retention of body heat even when wet. High heat retention / low weight. High CLO rating.
- Drawcord hem adjustment (Jacket) – Insures a snug closure between jacket and salopettes
