Gill Introduces All New Redesigned Glove Range

Glove design is a very specialist area and Gill is a world leading sailing glove brand. We have tackled it head on using our expert glove designers, patenting innovations like seamless finger construction, which ensures longevity, grip and dexterity. We have also introduced new materials, which provide unbeatable durability for every type sailing in every possible condition.

Gill has completely redesigned its sailing glove offer for 2010. After years of testing and customer feedback, we are confident this is our best range yet – HANDS DOWN.

From the industry standard Deckhand Glove, offering great all round protection at a great price, to the widely accepted best performer in the market place – the Pro Glove with its distinctive “yellow” Proton Ultra™ durable material – Gill gloves are designed to enhance performance across the entire range.

Highlights in the 2010 sailing glove collection are the Dura-Grip™ fabric on lower part of palm construction providing incredible levels of grip without any compromise in flexibility and durability. The color and fit have also been updated.
